"Nothing is ever what it seems."

—Màiri, to a traveler that came to her home

A young bruxa, left to an unfortunate fate at a young age with only her name. But fate changed and she found her place in a pack, finally lerning to be more herself instead of hiding among humans and becoming more and more like them.

Personality

Upon first encountering her one would consider her a sweet, if not a little too pure and innocent girl. But as many things in the world, she isn't entirely what she seems. Her kindness and friendliness is no act and she is quite curious. Though if threatened she can become rather hostile and nothing of her usually so friendly side seems to remain.

She is also quite protective over those she cares about, though it is surprisingly difficult to fully gain her trust.

Relationships

- Unnamed Father: She has no knowledge of who he was or even which tribe he belonged to.
- Unnamed mother: She knows very little of her mother, not even her name. All she knows is that she belonged to the Gharasham.
- Unnamed Witch Hunter: The man who murdered her mother and took her in after mistaking her for a stolen child. He found his death by her hands.
- Dettlaff van der Eretein: After being taken in by him she came to trust him and even views him as her father.
- Ishtali: As Dettlaff's mate she is in Mäiri's life and she has come to like her, though they still need time to get to know each other properly.
- Rose: While knowing very well how dangerous it is, she always finds her way to Nilfgaard's court to see Rose. She cares a lot about her.

Skills and Abilities

Trivia

- Quite easily mistaken for a nobleman's daughter.
- Her voice even when speaking is quite odd, more song than spoken word.
- Quite intelligent and appears to know the Common tongue quite well.
- She would never admit it, but she has grown quite attached to Dettlaff.
- Larger animals don't flee from her and she is often seen in the company of different animals.
